

Weekly Bulletin

Term 2 Week 11: Friday 29th March 2019

Welcome to our weekly newsletter. I hope this finds you well.

As you know on Monday I shared with you all via letter and links information about the report following our recent Ofsted inspection. It has been brilliant this week to have so many parents email or speak to me and other staff about their support of our school. Thank you - it means so much!

For your information the Governors of our school and I are in the process of finalising written feedback to Ofsted about the timing and tone of our recent inspection.

I note with interest that on Wednesday Ofsted uploaded the incorrect report to their own website and, at the time of writing this bulletin on Friday morning, they have not replaced it with the accurate one, missing their own deadline! Perhaps their systems and strategic management of this aspect requires improvement!

Staff absence:

Unfortunately, we have had several staff ill this week. Hopefully Mr Brooks and Mrs Mackintosh will have recovered and will be returning to school next week. Mrs Longfield will unfortunately be off for a longer period. We send continued best wishes. I thank Mrs Raspin for her efforts in working with Willow class in Mrs Longfield's absence.

This week:

- Ash and Beech class enjoyed a super trip to the Yorkshire Sculpture park on Tuesday. Mrs Burton and Miss Watling were extremely proud of the attitudes of the children.
- I enjoyed working with Mrs Hankinson, a respected colleague, on developing our Social Moral Spiritual and Cultural curriculum this week.
- Year 6 children enjoyed a netball tournament at Holy Family on Wednesday afternoon.

Next week and beyond:

- We have decided to alter our planned dates for Parent Teacher consultations -more information will follow early next week about this. These have been delayed until the first week after the Easter holidays.
- Clubs: This is the last week of clubs, there will be no clubs running in April. The only club that will be running beyond this point is Doncaster Rovers the external provider.

I hope you have a super weekend. Don't forget the clocks change this weekend!

Thank you for taking the time to read our newsletter and for your continued support.

Kind regards

Jon Watson
